High tech horror

Tess Grynoch

Abstract

Horror has moved online with online stories adapting the medium to increase suspense, scary online games, and online horror fiction communities. This article provides some resources from all three of these categories.

Full Text:
PDF

Refbacks
- There are currently no refbacks.

©2013 Dalhousie University. School of Information Management.

High-definition cameras have turned movie make-up into an art form requiring incredible attention to detail. Today's special effects, however, require a bit more technical savvy. That's not just because audiences want to see more gore; high-definition cameras have also turned movie make-up into an art form requiring incredible attention to detail. High Tech Horror. 10. Earn a grade of 'B' or higher on the 'High Tech Horror' Challenge. Unlocked by 26 gamers out of 95 gamers (27%). Guides for High Tech Horror Achievement. There are no guides for this achievement. 20. 200. 95. Episode 18 Online High-Tech House of Horrors, The gang ends up going to a future fair in Omaha; however, the main attraction the house of the future is closed due to the mysterious disappearance of a teenager. The creator of the house, Professor Ostwald (reappears in E-Scream), tells the gang that nothing is wrong; however, after Daphne disappears the gang has to go back to the house to search for her, but are soon locked in along with the Blather Brothers and the reality TV star, Horatio Hidalgo.